

Gift Card Payment Scams

Gift cards are popular and convenient...and not just as gifts. Con artists have latched onto gift cards as a convenient form of payment in their scams.

How these scams work:

- You are contacted about an urgent financial matter, and are told the quickest way to address the issue is to buy one or more gift cards – often referred to as "electronic vouchers."
- You are told to share the numbers on the back of the gift cards either by reading them over the phone or taking and sending a picture.
- The scammer is able to quickly convert the card balance into cash and then disappear.
- This tactic is common in impostor scams a call from Social Security warns of a problem with your account; a utility company call warns of an imminent shutoff; you've won big in a lottery and just need to pay some fees upfront; your grandchild faces a financial emergency.

What you should know:

- ANYTIME you are directed to pay some fee or obligation by purchasing a gift card and sharing the numbers off the back, it is a scam.
- If you are confronted by someone directing you to buy gift cards for some obligation, disengage immediately.
- Report it to the Federal Trade Commission at reportfraud.ftc.gov. The data are used to identify trends and build cases against criminals.
